A TIME FOR:

A Time for . . .

Almost all of us agree that there is rarely enough time in the day to finish everything we want, but there is always a time for what we really want to do. One thing is for certain: For ten months out of each year, there is a time for each of us at Graham High School.

Winter is a time for basketball, Christmas baskets, exams, research papers, and snowballs.

Fall and spring are times for football, homecoming, band trips, track, baseball, prom, and commencement.

Activities provide a time for doing. No group gets involved in more activities than the great Graham Band. The fine musicians, Drum Majorette Sally Saunders, and six majorettes, who always perform well, participate in all school and community parades.

10

Sports provide a time for competing. There is no better example of good sportsmanship than the G-Men. In the game with Bluefield High, Eddie Hall, #32; Joe Jenkins, #44; Jimmy Bailey, #65; and Chris Morris, #83, helped the other G-Men with the coveted win.

32

Clubs provide a time for people to associate with each other. The SCA, with Kelvin Williamson (standing) presiding and Donna Ford, Kelly Surber, and Donnie Tabor agreeing with his proposal, sets the tone for all the other clubs.

58

Curriculum provides a time for learning. Graham prepares its students both for further education and for immediate jobs after graduation. Jay Jennings, Darryl Cox, Pat Thompson, and Marty Nash admire potatoes grown in the horticulture class.

96

People provide a time for knowing. It is the people people will remember. Sherry Lawton, Monique DeAngelis, Denise Daniels, Mark Kensinger, (standing) Mike Simpson, and Phil Lester will know each other at Graham; but, all too soon, each will go his separate way.

124

Time is good to some people; bad for others. Some people see time as "I finally got through the day!"; others see it as "Why isn't there enough time to do all the things I want?"

Some people take their time; others hurry to finish before time is up. Some people are always in time; others are always out of time. Some people are ahead of time; others are behind the times. Some people work against time; others work with time. Some people are always on time; others are never on time.

Time belongs to people. It has been given to them to use; they cannot ignore it. When seniors graduate, their future will depend on how well they have used their time. For everyone, there is a time to be studied away, played away, dreamed away, loafed away, and wished away.

Community-School Helped Each Other

Our school and community are entwined. Each serves the other; each relies on the other. The community provides support for the school and the school provides the community with the facilities for education. Both the school and the community have time for each other.

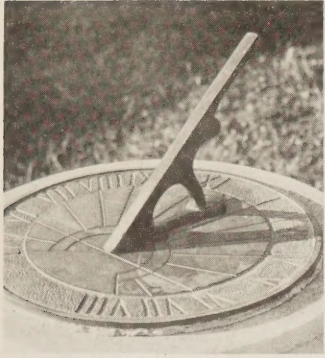

TOP — Cynthia Williams opens an account at a local bank.

MIDDLE — J.D. Baker relaxes for a moment after serving customers.

BOTTOM — Greeting sign on routes 19-460.

A Time for a Favorite Activity

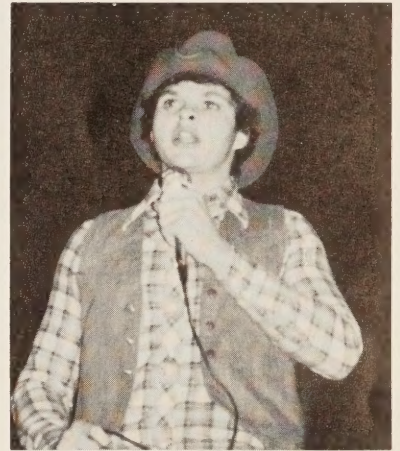

Graham High School provides a time for activities, sports, clubs, and classes. Through all of these we come in contact with each other and with the community. Four years pass quickly for some; slowly for others. Still, there are moments, events, and decisions made during the freshman-senior years that we shall cherish forever as joyous memories.

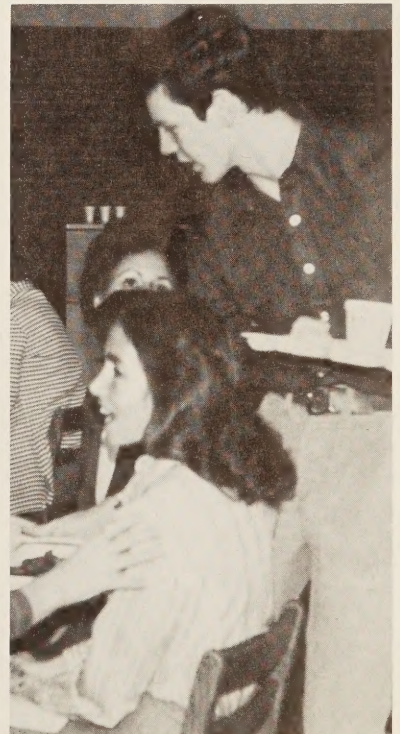

Activities give us a chance to do "our own thing" apart from scheduled classes. Talent abounds not only in organizing but also in participating. There is always time to perform in a play, dance at a prom, march in a parade — always time for one's favorite activity.

The Art classes display works at the annual school fair.

Jimmy Ballard sings in the "Hee Haw" show.

Tim Thompson waits on teachers at the SCA faculty breakfast.

Country boys, Mark Owens, Mark Epperly, Bryon Boone and Larry Dunn, visit the city.

A Time for Sports

Graham High athletes excelled in many sports. The G-Men and G-Girls always competed well; remained humble in victory and never gave up in defeat. There was always a time for practicing, participating, or watching.

TOP — Coach Williams and Don Sharrock discuss a change in the game plan.

A Time for Classes

Even with the clubs, sports and many other activities here at Graham, the object of the school is to provide an education. Education is the primary purpose of Graham High School, believe it or not. Yes, there is a time for classes.

Three language experts visited Mrs. E. Jones' fourth period English class. They are Bongo Thumphead, expert on pre-historic Egyptians; Victoria Wells, PHD of English at Oxford; and Earl Clampett, custodian of the unknown County School System.

These "experts" appeared in connection with a skit presented while the class studied the history of the English language.

The Black Box gave back to Richard Foil everything it took from him, but then it took Richard.

Kenny Jackson and Bobby Riffe discuss their Biology projects.

Members of the Choir lift their voices in song.

It's study time again (almost) in the library.

A Time for Clubs

Since prehistory, man has grouped together for protection, working for a common goal, or for just having a good time. The clubs at Graham are for the latter two, working towards a goal and for having a good time. There is a time for clubs.

TOP — Julie Workman, Pat Cochran and Kathy Baker work on decorations for a parade.

Junior-Senior Prom

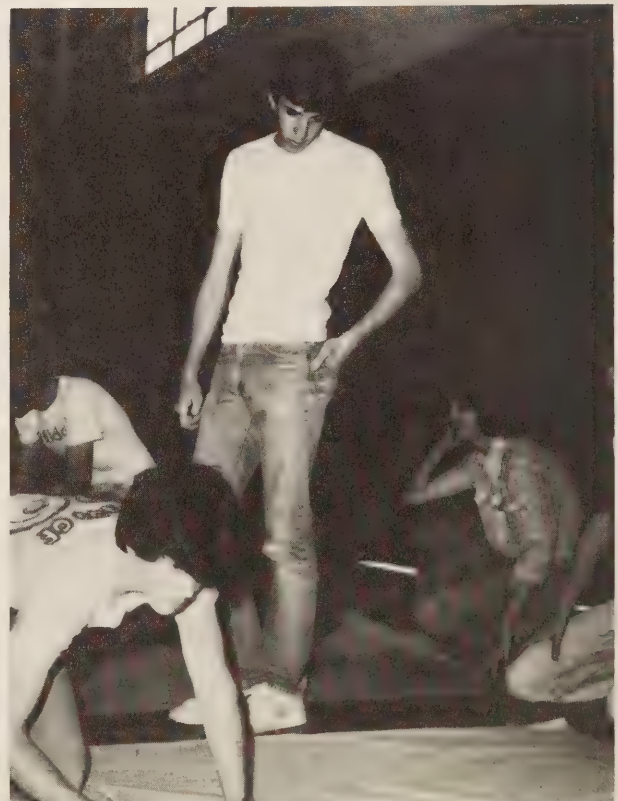

The excitement of planning sessions and days of hard work, was well accepted by the students at the Jr.-Sr. prom. It was quite unique with its main streets, city lights, and disco music by Charlie Brown Disco. The theme was Last Dance, fitting because it was the last dance of its kind.

TOP — Juniors work together as they wait for the final lifting of the well constructed ceiling.

Commencement '79

"Climb every Mountain" was the theme to the Commencement exercises June 8, 1979. It was held at Graham High School to pay final recognition to the Class of '79. Kim Bowen, Chip Hurley and Deanna Williams were Valedictorians and Marti Rich was Salutatorian of their class. The Class of '79 will always be a part of Graham High School, and their achievements will long be remembered.

Spring of '79

Spring of '79 brought happiness and togetherness in many activities. Students enjoyed plays, concerts, and other special events. The National Honor Society inducted thirty-two new members last spring. It consisted of eleven Sophomores, seven Juniors and fourteen Seniors. The Choir filled our hearts with their annual spring concert, and the Drama class performed an exciting play entitled Maniquins Demise.

A unique dimension to this year's play, entitled MANIQUINS DEMISE, was the effect of the choir members of the chorus in the play. Susan Jester, Deana Williams, Leah Collier, B. Howe, Mary Beth Russell, Tim Ballard, and Cindy Ashbaugh.

The National Honor Society induction was capped with the following new members: FRONT: Donna Ford, Charles Salyers. ROW 2: Ardena Worrell, Randa Patton, Tami Gilenwater, Virgena McClanahan, Patrice Brown. ROW 3: Tim Thompson, Julie Jones.

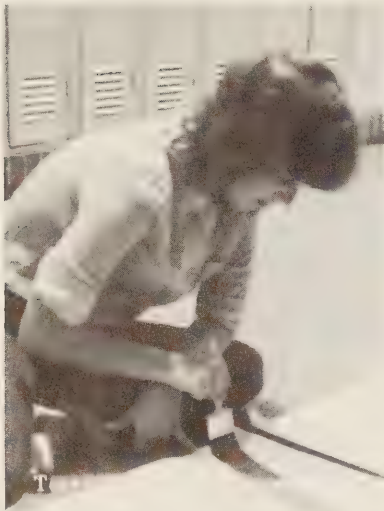

"Hee Haw," the spring offering of the choir, was well received by the student body. Members of the Voices in Color, Jenine Bertel, Susan Pack, Eddie Fortune, Debbie Murrey, Jeff Church, Mary Harmon, Lisa K. Scott, Melanie Strange.

Worktime

Who says working never pays off. Students at Graham High School know the importance of working in order to make activities worth while. The cheerleaders worked hard preparing for games and pep assemblies while the majorettes practice for their performances. Some of the students served as acting participants in the town councilman jobs.

What would one call an assembly that's sole purpose was to promote spirit and let the G-Men know that the student body was behind them? A pep assembly. Pep assemblies were more than just a chance to get out of class. They were important to the morale of our athletes. Knowing that the entire school is behind you was enough to inspire our G-Men and G-Girls to do their best.

Big G-Band at Bristol

The Big G-Band participated in many activities through the year. Among the most remembered was the parade and competition at Bristol. The Band was also Honor Band and played the "Star Spangled Banner" at the opening Ceremony at the Festival. Another activity was the combination of the G-Band with Bluefield High's Band. They proved that rivals can be friends.

The Junior Class Produced

Off the Track was the theatrical production of the junior class. Aside from a few minor difficulties the play was a complete success. The comedy pertained to a train that had jumped the track and the passengers who had to wait in a station for the next passing locomotive.

Activities Are Popular With Students

Forensics competition, Voice of Democracy, and the one act play highlighted Graham's winter activities. Many students participated in these worthwhile competitions and the results were excellent.

The winners of the Voice of Democracy Competition were Mike Mullins, Julie Jones, and Cathy Baker.

Cast of the one act play "The One Act Play" includes Jonathan Farley and Mike Slade, Mike Mullins, Julie Jones, Cathy Baker, and Wyatt and Richard Saunders, and Tommy Tabor.

Student Activities

Among the activities for this year were the annual Christmas Program, door decoration, and teacher breakfast, all sponsored by the SCA, and the DECA contest where Graham took many place awards.

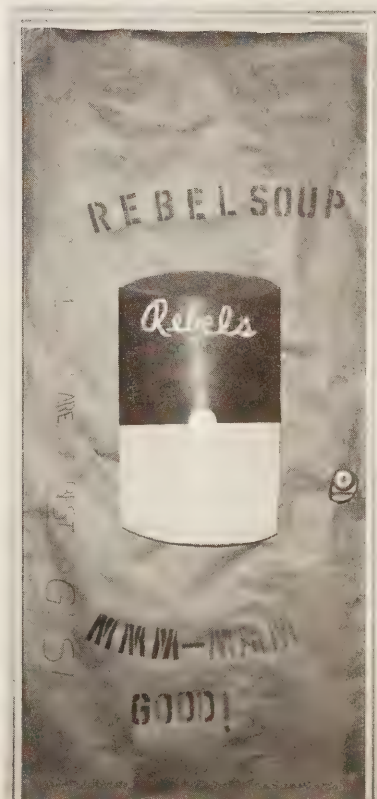

TOP — Winners of the DECA contest included Randy Colley, General Merchandising Operations, display 3rd, overall winner 3rd; Susie Carter, Food Service, math 1st, human relations 2nd, overall winner 1st; David Woods, Food Service, human relations 3rd, math 3rd, overall winner 1st; Randy White, Apparel and Accessories, math 1st, human relations 1st, product service technology 1st, overall winner 1st; Richard Gibson, Food Marketing 2nd; Ray Morris, Food Service, human relations 1st.

Performances by the choir and Cheerleaders, and Doug Davis as Santa Claus made the SCA Christmas Program a success.

Rebel Soup, flavor of the week, was the prize winning door design offered by the students in Mrs. Emillie Jones' home-room.

Students Excel in Math

One of the many activities that filled this year was the annual Mathematics Competitions held at Southwest Virginia Community College. Graham was excellently represented by many outstanding math students. Graham had four contestants in the top ten of the five categories. Senior Mary Beth Rusyniak was 8th in overall AA competition and 1st place for girls in the category. Sophomore Melanie Jones was 4th in overall competition and 1st for the girls in the category. Sophomores Cindy Ascue, and Ricky Chancellor also placed in their categories.

Winners at the math contest were Mary Beth Rusyniak and Melanie Jones.

Honored Athletes

Sports, as always, dominated our year of exciting activities. To go along with our winning football season, one lucky senior player was selected as

Mr. Football. Other two versatile senior athletes, Don Spencer and Lynne Phillips, were chosen as Mr. and Miss Varsity.

After the Senior Football pep assembly, Doug Davis displays his Mr. Football cake with Coach Carlock.

The student body elected Lynne Phillips as Miss Varsity.

Don Spencer was chosen to be Mr. Varsity.

Seniors Receive Honors

Several of our students were selected to receive special honors. They included Tammy Faw, Miss Basketball; Johnny Quintier, Mr. Basketball; and Cathy Burnopp, Varsity Club Sweetheart.

Tammy Faw was selected as Miss Basketball by her teammates.

Outstanding Senior Boy and Girl

Senior Class President and National Society Vice-President, Mary Beth Rusyniak, was voted by the senior class as most outstanding senior girl. Mary Beth was an active member of Jr. Civitans. She was vice-president of the club here at school during her junior and senior years. She has held district offices also, including district secretary and district governor. Mary Beth actively participated in sports all four years in high school. She ran track, played tennis, and was captain of both the J.V. and Varsity girls' basketball teams. Mary Beth was in the festival play during her junior and senior years, and was a forensic winner in her junior year. She also devoted much of her time to being on the math team and won several awards in competition. Mary Beth participated in other clubs which included the SCA, GAA, FSA, FTA, Keyettes, Spanish Club.

Student Cooperative Association President, Kelvin Williamson, was voted by the senior class as the most outstanding senior boy. Kelvin was SCA Vice-President during his junior year, and he was on the Student Relations Committee during both his junior and senior years. Kelvin participated in the Jr. Class Play; he played an important role as the archangel. He has also participated in sports all four years of his high school career. He played on the J.V. basketball team during his freshman and sophomore years. He also actively participated on the Varsity Basketball team in his junior year and was Co-Captain his senior year. Kelvin ran track and was top individual scorer in his junior year. Other clubs in which Kelvin was a member were the Varsity Club, FCA, FBLA, and Bible Club.

Track Snags Second

The break of two track records were the main achievements of the track team during the 1978-79 season. Phil Bush broke the first of the two records by having a 12'6" vault, breaking a three year record in the Pole Vault. Jody Bourne broke the second GHS track record last season by running a 50.6 second 440. This record was first set in the late '60's. One of the team's main accomplishments of last season, was the second place finishing in the Bluefield Daily Telegraph Invitational in which eighteen teams participated.

Coaches Kinser and Rohrer

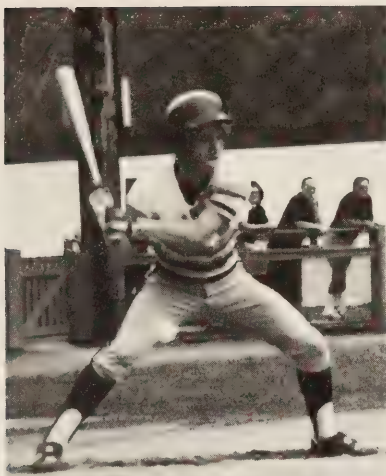

After placing fourth in the Southwest District in 1978 with a senior-dominated team, the '79 G-men baseball team faced a rebuilding year with only two seniors on the team. Returning lettermen included senior, Bobby Garter; juniors, Johnny Qunitier and Don Sharrock; and sophomore Jeff Light. The G-Men suffered through many tough games and paid the price of inexperience.

Eddie Hall Makes All-Regional Team

The G-Men machine faltered a bit in the next four games, but managed to win all of them by narrow margins. One reason the G-Men had difficulty blowing games open was because they had trouble playing on muddy fields. After sitting atop the Southwest District standings for six weeks with an unblemished record, the G-Men's balloon finally burst as they battled Virginia High to a scoreless tie on the rain-soaked Bearcats gridiron.

The G-Girls enjoyed an impressive 14-6 record. Their season was, however, incomplete when they lost in the first round of the Southwest District Tournament. The G-Girls were led by outstanding senior guard Tammy Faw who had 422 points on the season. The rebounding category was led by Lynne Phillips who pulled 214 caroms off the rim. Senior Kathy Reed was second in the rebounding with 148. In her fourth year playing, Mary Beth Rusyniak had an impressive 44 steals for the mighty G-Girls.

Tammy Faw Scores 1000th Point

The G-Girls outscored their opponents this year 1082 to 938. There were three outstanding underclassmen for the G-Girls which added to their success. Jr. Guard Jennifer Faw averaged 6.7 pts. a game being 9th on the team. Jr. Forward Benette Barrus shot a hot 58.6% from the charity line this season being seventh on the team. Soph. The G-Men placed seventh in the final Southwest District and had to play Tazewell to qualify for the District Tournament. The G-Men whipped the Bulldogs for the third time in the 1979-80 season, 58-52, in an emotional night at Graham. The G-Men then lost a tough Virginia High team in the quarter-finals of the tournament, 51-44. A pleasant surprise to the basketball team at Graham was the addition of Carlton Edwards who transferred from Mount View. At the beginning of the season, however, the G-Men's schedule did not compare with their talent. Having to play Marion and Gate City on the road the first two games would delay the G-Men as our hoopsters lost to Marion, 70-69, and Gate City, 76-71. The G-Men then put it all together and won three in a row. After beating Virginia High, 62-54, Richlands, 64-63, and exploding against John Battle, 101-71, the G-Men were sitting in third place in the District and ninth in Southwest, VA. Then the G-Men had a streak of bad luck when Carlton Edwards inquired eligibility problems and transferred back to Mt. View. At the time of his departure, Carlton was averaging 17 points and 10 rebounds a game. However after tough losses to Beaver and Patrick Henry, the G-Men won two straight games, the G-Men then rallied past Abingdon, 66-57 and then beat Tazewell 68-66 led by Johnny Quintier's 34 points. These wins put the G-Men in third place in the Southwest District. The G-Men were then beaten by a tough Grundy Club even though Don Sharrock and Quintier combined for 48 points. Bad luck again felled the G-Men in the next game as leading scorer Quintier sprained his ankle in the Gate City game. The G-Men lost that one, 66-61, despite Sharrock's 28 points. The G-Men, now despite the swing of Sharrock and the ever-improving play of Mark Epperly, Steve Lindsey, Mike Branhan, and William Adams. Against John Battle, Coach Phelps' new starting lineup seemed to jell, and completely dominated in a 68-56 win. The G-Men then lost close games to powerhouses Marion and Beaver. The G-Men then whipped Tazewell for the second time 54-45. The G-Men then lost the last three regular season games to Grundy, Patrick Henry, and Abingdon.

Winter Sports Take Dedication

Dedication, that's the word that describes the G-Girls volleyball team. Long hours were spent to prepare for the long season.

The wrestling team pulled in an 3-8 record; however, this year was the first time that a wrestling team from Graham won a match. The 98-lb. class wrestler, Terry Sarver, represented Graham at the Region IV tournament.

Varsity Cheerleaders Won a

"Practice, practice — makes perfect." Certainly this statement applied to the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. Sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Nash, both squads spent long hours after school practicing and preparing signs for each game.

Last summer both squads attended a Cheerleading Camp at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association, the squads learned new cheers, chants, stunts, and spirit raising projects.

At camp the Varsity won the award of excellence which was the top award for overall performance and appearance.

Also, they won the spirit stick three out of four nights. On the last day of camp, six top squads were selected out of a total of sixty-four. Both the Varsity and J.V. were in the top six. In fact, the J.V. was the only J.V. squad represented in the top six. The Varsity participated in the Garden High School Invitational Cheerleading Tournament in October when they won the top Trophy.

The Varsity, with Melody Stevenson, captain, and Kelly Surber, co-captain, sold sweaters and spirit links to raise money to buy their uniforms. Every spring, the Varsity hold a clinic for Little League Cheerleaders. At this clinic each little girl pays $5.00 per session for instruction and lunch. The squad applies this money toward uniforms, too.

The night before all games, the Varsity decorated the boys' dressing rooms and left extra treats (candy bars and cookies) in the boys' lockers. In addition, they presented Mr. Football, Mr. and Miss Basketball with a cake; gave Mr. and Miss Varsity a silver charm. At the final pep rally of the football and basketball season, the underclass Varsity Cheerleaders honored the senior members with a corsage.

In March, the Varsity girls conducted a clinic for both the Varsity and J.V. squads. Judges for this tryout were previous cheerleaders and other people in the community familiar with cheerleading. The top eight scores in this tryout determined the Varsity; the next six, the J.V.

The J.V. squad, with Cynthia Williams, captain, and Lisa O'Neal, co-captain, was always ready to assist the Varsity. They gave treats to the girls' basketball and boys' J.V. teams. Their attitude and willingness to cooperate and work hard gave good background for advancing to the Varsity.

THE VARSITY SQUAD — FRONT: Kelly Surber, Stephanie Hurt. MIDDLE: Shellie Jackson, Terri Nash, Melody Stevenson, Lisa Buchanan, Cindy Shrader. BACK: Lisa K. Scott, leads the school in spirit. Melody Stevenson, captain, holds the award for excellence they won at the summer Cheerleading Camp.

Award of Excellence

To keep spirit at its peak at the pep assemblies, the cheerleaders presented skits, special programs, and routines for the teams.

The long hours of practice and discipline pay off at games when the cheerleaders perform flawless routines.

Each girl contributed her talent to assure the squad of making a top score at the summer Cheerleading Camp.

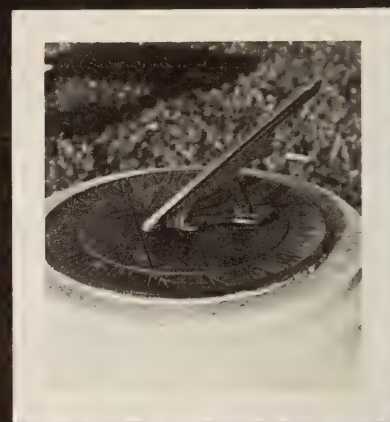

Waiting for a game, the squad gets a last minute practice of a mount routine.

Homecoming a Big Success

Once again, the highlight of the early fall, the selection of a Homecoming Queen, was a success. And once again, the Homecoming Festivities were sponsored by the Louis N. Dalton chapter of the National Honor Society. Along with the Homecoming, the National Honor Society brightened the Christmas of the children at the Bluefield Union Mission and provided an opportunity for representatives from each class to lock horns in the intellectual contest, Klassroom Quiz, in the early spring.

Homecoming Parade Funds Activities

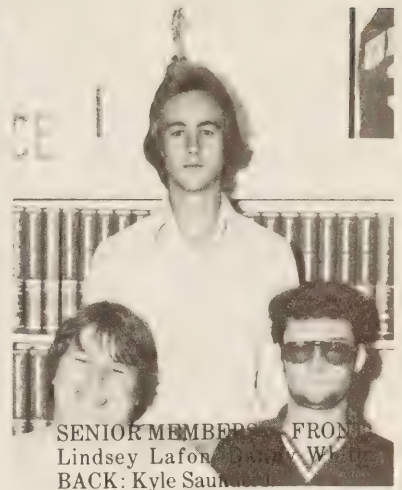

Weeks before Homecoming, members worked hard at support for the parade, decorating the Keyette car and getting the line-up for the thirty-plus participants. Another worthwhile project for the club was fixing baskets, buying gifts, and throwing a party for the Children's Temple Mission at Christmas. Other activities included having a dinner to induct new members, and co-sponsoring an annual dance with the Key Club.

Big Apple Highlight of the Year

All learning is not done in the classroom. In addition to the knowledge gained in the classroom, members of the Art Club learned many things from their trip to New York City, the Big Apple. The excitement started as the chartered bus unloaded the students at the Guggenheim Museum of Modern Art and continued until the bus started back home from the Museum of Natural History, three days later. In between, they saw many famous sites, the Statue of Liberty, Chinatown, the Empire State Building, the World Trade Center Towers and the largest department store in the world, Macy's.

Trip Enjoyed by All

Most of the students agreed that the most memorable places visited were Saint Patrick's Cathedral and the panoramic view of New York City at night from the top of the Empire State Building. Another taste of the Big Apple's night life was dinner and dancing at Adam's Apple, a well known disco. The trip to New York City will undoubtedly lead many of the students to go back. The trip was well worth the time and two sleepless nights on a bus.

More Than Just Cooking and Sewing

Home economic students had the opportunity to learn other related activities necessary to every day living through this club. Members learned that not just sewing and cooking are involved in being a homemaker. Helping individuals improve community, family, and personal living were the goals of this club's members. The Future Homemakers of America is a national and state organization open to all students who have taken home economics.

Vivacious, on the move, and one of the largest clubs in this school pertains to the helping of others in need. Jr. Civitans, in order to help the needy sold fruitcakes, gave a Thanksgiving program, adopted a grandparent, rang bells for the Salvation Army, sold peanut brittle and held several parties for the Childrens Temple Mission. At last year's convention, held in Parkersburg, West Virginia, Graham civitans completely swept all the district awards away from the other West Virginia district clubs and claimed one district officer. All and all it takes a strong club to produce lasting effects on a community.

Basketball, volleyball, cheerleading, and track were the reasons for an active Girls' Athletic Association. The G-Girls excelled in all sports, and no matter what the weather, they were ready to participate. They helped keep alive the spirit of sports by having intramural games between the classes, and they brought back the long-awaited May Day activities. Their energy and sportsmanship continued to make their goals a little closer to perfection.

Pizzazz of the Game

Go! Go! Go! Go! When this chant was heard in one section of the football stadium, the fans knew immediately what was happening. The Pep Club was cheering the G-Men on to another victory. The Pep Club also assisted the cheerleaders in promoting school spirit and helped lift the G-Men to a successful season. Crickett clickers, G-Men penants, cow bells, G-Men pins, Spirit contests, placing spirit signs in the halls and in the gym, and chartering buses to away basketball games, were some of the activities the Pep Club did to earn money and uplift school spirit.

Service to Our Community

As a service club under the sponsorship of the YWCA, Y-Teens were involved in many worthwhile projects. The club sponsored parties for the children at the Children's Temple Mission, held dances, collected for UNICEF and planned many community services.

Working to Preserve Memories

During the sixth period each day, as well as many hours of after school time, the members of the annual staff prepared THE GRAHAM. Problems of weather, typing and retyping, cropping impossible pictures, desperately trying to meet deadlines — everything posed a problem for a determined staff. When the annuals arrived, every member felt great pride. The sponsor, Mrs. Emillie Jones, was always present to give us encouragement.

TOP — Pictured with the sponsor, Mrs. Emillie Jones, are co-editors Maria Mabe and J. B. Howe.

Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Anatomy, and Earth Science make up the science classes here at Graham. The science club was established for the purpose of the people in these classes to get a better view of science. This year the club started out by selling raffle tickets for a game football and then they were on to Bluefield State for an extensive tour of their laboratories. Toward the end of the year they sponsored the annual science fair, displaying experiments from the science classes and works from all departments in the school. This group of students should be praised for their work for they could become related in one of the two hundred science fields that help us everyday.

A Time for:

Classes

Volleyball skills such as spiking are taught extensively in gym class.

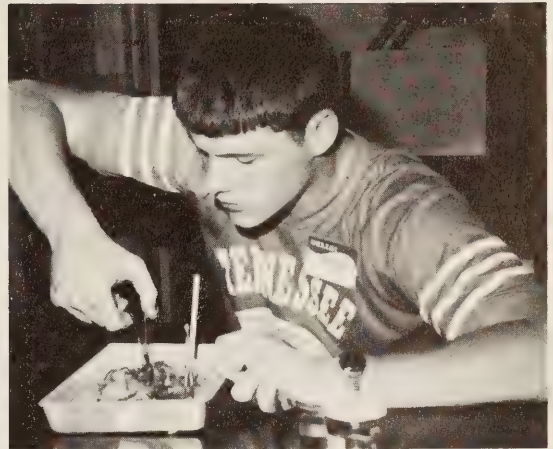

The Library was a place for all

A time for learning. Learning is a continuous process. What we learn here is not all that we learn rather, it is merely the base, a foundation of what we will learn through life. A foundation that will be continually built upon.

students to research papers.

Bill Summers shows Science Fair observers the correct way to dissect a frog.

Steve Lindsey and Angela Gillispie study "Henrietta", the Science Department's mascot.

Emphasizing Skills to

By emphasizing grammar usage, composition writing, and reading comprehension, the English Department strived to reach students useful skills. In Speech, classwork consisted of humorous and serious interpretation of prose and poetry, solo and duet acting, plus writing and presenting original speeches.

TOP — Here, a few members of the Drama class dressed up as clowns. Recognize anyone?

Bring Future Success

Randa Patton types her column while Bobby Riffe reads a past issue of The Atom.

Our newspaper, The Atom, kept us informed about school happenings each month. It was efficiently put out by the Journalism class under the direction of Mrs. Welcker.

This year a Drama class was added to the curriculum. Taught by Mr. Helton, more was learned than just acting.

Terri Nash is disappointed that she lost her two front teeth.

Richard Foil surrenders his umbrella to the Black Box.

Students Prepare for the Future

Mrs. Sara Belcher works very hard as the Cooperative Office Education Coordinator (COE) to help find jobs for her students. The students in this program attended classes part of the day and were employed in offices in the community during the remainder of the day.

TOP — Teresa Wagner, employed by Blayde's Clinic for a year, has really enjoyed her job.

Skills to Use Throughout Life

In General Business, Kevin Dudley and Ellen Crabtree try to figure out a hard problem.

The business department taught many skills to students. It offers classes in Typing I, General Business, Accounting I and II, Steno I and II, and Clerical Typing I and II, in addition, Cooperative Office Education (COE) Program.

THE FRENCH II CLASS — David Francis, Meldey Stevenson, Missy Caudill, Mike Mullins, Shelia Davis, Janice Ledbetter, Chris Morris, and Julie Workman.

Students Learn Sportsmanship

Strengthening the body and teaching good sportsmanship were the goals of the Physical Education department. Mrs. Goddard, Mr. Phelps, Mr. Williams, and Mrs. Hart taught freshmen and sophomores how to play basketball, volleyball, softball, football, gymnastics and other skills throughout the year.

TOP — Mr. Williams and Vanessa Wolford observe the gymnastic skill of Sherry Rose and Rhonda Vanhoozer.

Proudly displaying his first place hanging basket plant is Eddie Fortune.

Students Experience

Many students experienced on-the-job training while in school. They used their knowledge and skill that they learned in DE class to acquire and maintain their jobs in the business world. Their employers know how important this type of training is; therefore, students are able to participate in the DECA program.

Bobby Asbury, Jimmy Cole, Jeff Burton and Ricky Hash practice skills needed for on-the-job training.

On-the-Job Training

Students listen as Mr. Gillenwater teaches the importance of proper occupational training.

The purpose of the Distributive Education was to prepare students for a vocation in the business world. The classroom was the first step in learning. After several years in the class, students would then go into on-the-job-training. Mr. Gillenwater guided his students in this learning experience.

Ginny Tickle enjoyed working as a cashier at IGA.

Randy White has learned about selling while working at King Alan Limited.

Choir Sings Songs With Color

Every day during fifth period members of the "Voices In Color" practiced many songs that were performed throughout the year.

Mrs. Bea Leist was the choir director.

Science Is Interesting

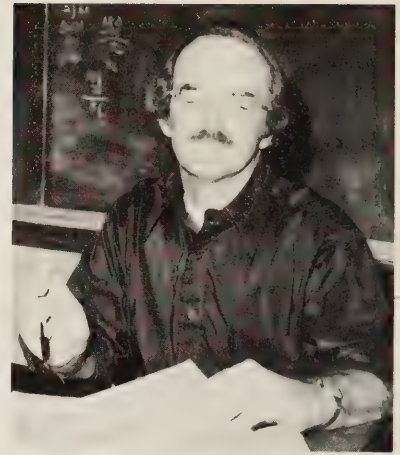

Science was the investigation of life and all that made life possible for all mankind, both great and small. The science classes offered were Science 9, Biology I, Anatomy, Chemistry, and physics. Having scientific knowledge was the most interesting information you could obtain.

Math Is More Than Numbers

Our math teachers, Mr. Russell, Mr. Ayers, Mr. Hedrick and Mrs. Harry help students organize their thoughts by using mathematical reasoning. The math courses vary from Consumer Math to Calculus. Most of the math classes make projects for the school fair while the Calculus class assists the G-Men basketball team by measuring the players' ability in several basic aspects of the game.

Social Studies Broadens Views

In Humanities, Rhonda Heldreth worries about the on-coming Exam.

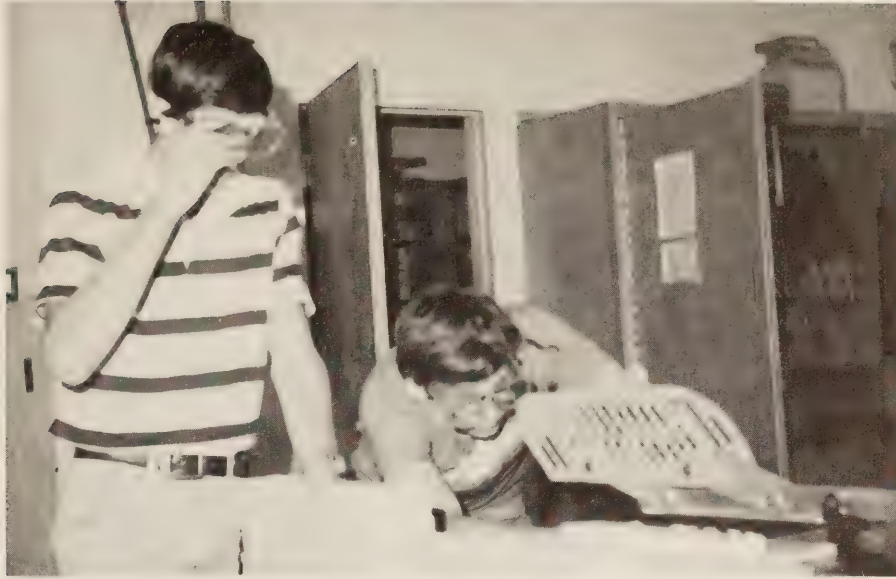

In Government Don Sharrock argues against Shelia Charles, Jeff Church, and Cynthia Hare on debating public policy.

In World Geography Michael Ford shows where Iran is to Denise Clendenen and Melissa Lawson.

Teachers try to help students understand and learn from yesterday's mistakes. World Geography and Humanities taught students how the individuals of our country and other countries live. Social Studies opened the door of good citizenship to students along with teaching many aspects of our world. In Government, students learned how our country works. American History gave students a peek into how countries are born, developed, and sometimes die tragic deaths.

Farm Layouts and More

Don Lockhart and Kevin Inscore show their skills in power woodworking.

In addition to learning safety procedures with shop machinery, students of Agricultural Mechanics plan and draw modern farm layouts. Also, they learn woodworking, hand tool identification, metal fabrications and the uses of grinders and gringing. It can be said that Agricultural Mechanics is more than just another class, it's a learning experience.

Kevin Dudley learns how to use a acetylene cutting torch.

Gary Stowers and Cliff Mitchem practice are welding in shop.

Fun as Well as Educational

Teaching students how to cook, sew and take care of daily needs is just a few of the responsibilities of Home Economics. Under the direction of Mrs. Alice Barnett girls and boys both learned skills of the home that would have otherwise been foreign to them.

Art Boosts Culture

Painting, Sculpting, Drawing and Designing are all part of the Art classes. Taught by Miss Frye, these fine arts enhance the appreciation of art found in everyday life. During the school fair, the art classes use the lobby to display the many works done by students. The lessons learned in the art class provides the student with a hobby later on in life or may even start the student in the world or professional art.

Past of the Art classes display at the school fair.

Learning a Trade

Each morning and afternoon, students were transported to the vocational school where they practiced their chosen vocation. The work oriented atmosphere encouraged students to study and work hard.

Marcia Earls is using her talents in fashionably styling a woman's hair.

Marsha Peery and Jackie Cecil are enrolled in the new data processing program offered by the vocational center.

Blend Vocation With Academic

David Martin enrolled in Building Trades, concentrates as he levels a corner during a brick laying exercise.

Many students realize the advantages of learning a trade which credit them in the adult labor market. These professions include auto mechanics, building trades, carpentry, cosmetology, data processing, electricity, electronics, masonry, mine maintenance, nursing, plumbing, sewing, and welding.

Our Administration

Making sure the school is run smoothly and effectively is the job of Mr. James Brewster, principal and Mr. Roy Meadows, vice-principal. Taking care of coordinating activities of the school and regular administrative duties is the concern of Mr. Brewster. Serving as chief disciplinarian, Mr.

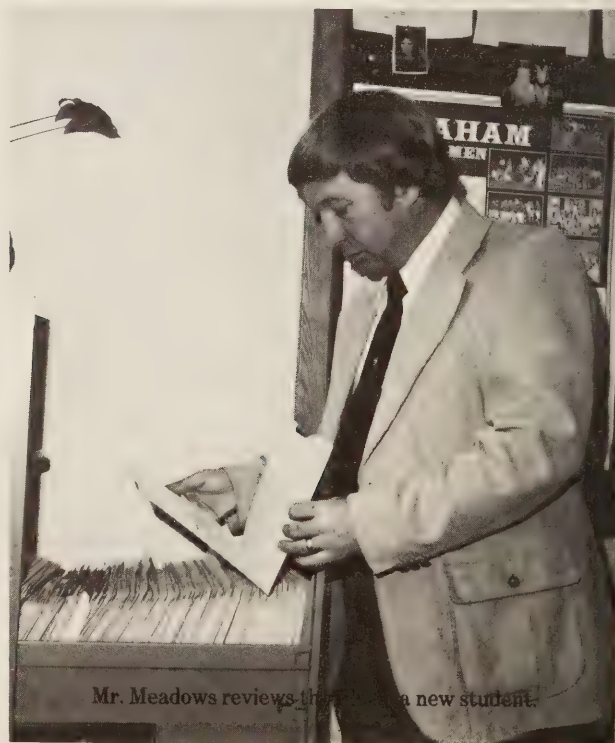

Meadows handles the occasional problems that erupt throughout the year. Both Mr. Brewster and Mr. Meadows give time out of their busy schedules to handle student concerns and to make sure our school is running with perfection.

Mr. Brewster and Mr. Meadows go over the school financial reports.

Mr. Carlock is helping Joel Lewis solve a conflict.

Our guidance counselors helped each student to know himself and to develop a positive attitude about himself. Also they help students to make wise decisions and to accept responsibility. Mrs. Lucas and Mr. Carlock were always ready to assist seniors with registering for College Board Entrance Examinations, meeting the requirements of colleges, filling out admissions and financial aid applications. They also gave advice to underclassmen by helping them with any schedule problems.

*Our Office:
Providing Assistance*

Mrs. June Brown is seen here typing an important letter.

Office worker Cathy Smith helped Mr. Brewster by answering the telephone.

Cindy Williams and Cheryl Welch ran many errands for Mrs. Nash.

A Busy Office Staff

Helping the school function well are our efficient secretaries Mrs. Barbara Nash and Mrs. June Brown. They held the job of handling financial matters, typing, paperwork, and answering the many questions of students and teachers. Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Brown were always willing to help straighten out any problem or emergency that arose. Then two excellent secretaries provided services that were quite indispensable.

By taking messages, running errands, typing bulletins, and supervising the check-out window, students who worked in the office during their study halls were of great help to Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Brown. By relieving the secretaries of extra work, the office worker allowed them to have more time to handle more important matters.

Mrs. Barbara Nash is seen here taking message over the telephone.

Maria Mabe and Lisa Glass run off some papers for tomorrow's test.

Mrs. Brown hands Rhonda Hale notes to type.

Our Service Personnel

The cooks and custodians proved to be a real necessity to us. The well-being and nourishment of the students was held in the hands of the cooks. No matter how big or small, the custodians helped with any emergency almost any hour of the day or night.

TOP — A helpful addition to the custodial staff is Margaret Gentry.

Our cooks for the '79-'80 school year: Sally Patrick, Orchid Quick, Bess Simpson, Della Wells, Carol Jackson, Lucille Buckland, and Audrey Lawson (manager).

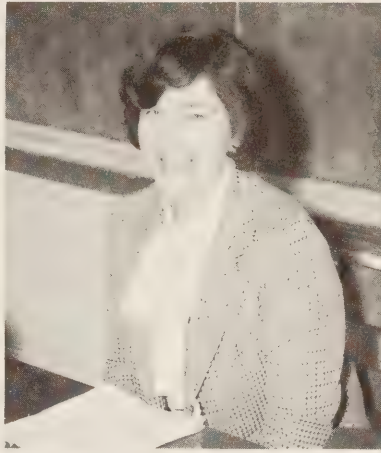

They Had Time for Us

As a regular substitute teacher at Graham, Mrs. Pat Harmon has become a familiar face to the students.

When regular teachers were absent, substitutes came to keep classes. They assumed duties and responsibilities to keep the work from piling up for both teachers and students. We students and the faculty of Graham thank these ladies for being available to help us out when we need it.

Mrs. Pat Harmon, Mrs. Billie Pennington, and Mrs. Ruth Brewster were always available when called to substitute for us at Graham High School.

Mrs. Billie Pennington was ready to substitute teach at anytime.

People Make the School

It didn't matter what shape or size . . . each individual was considered an important part of this school. There was always a time for the smiles and memories that were created by all of us. We the people made pep assemblies more enjoyable and classes more meaningful. In conclusion, without you, the people, there would be no Graham High School.

On their art trip to New York, Bryon Boone, Mark Owens, Mark Epperly, and Larry Dunn take time out from sightseeing to have a coke.

Ellen Crabtree and Margaret Stacy, freshmen, spent much of their summer vacation practicing cheers.

Senior Mary Beth Rusyniak took orders for Mr. Helton, Mr. Ayers, Mr. Phelps, and Mr. Saunders at the SCA sponsored Christmas breakfast given for the teachers on their work day.

Class of 1980

For the Seniors, the year 1979-80 was filled with many activities, much excitement, and many memories.

The class colors were red and white; flower, white carnation tipped in red; and motto "Everywhere in life the true question is not what we gain but what we do."

Some seniors could hardly wait for commencement; some cried, some became quieter as they came to realize that high school days were about over; some planned, and some drifted but all went forward to make their own mark in the world.

Never again would they race to class or struggle on a homework assignment. However, the memories of those wonderful days at GHS bound together by laughter of friends will never be forgotten.

Tom Helton, sponsor; Donna Ford, treasurer; Melody Stevenson, secretary; Bob Ayers and Jan Kormendy, sponsors, planned for announcements, commencement, and other activities for the class of '80.

Bill Kinser, sponsor; Mary Beth Rusyniak, president; Shellie Jackson, vice-president; Hester Jo Welcker, sponsor, made 1980 a special year.

Class of 1981

The 1981 Junior class sent sparks flying when they entered the halls of Graham this year. Full of spirit and ready to work, they began by selling magazines and records to help pay for the prom. Also, they had floats in the Homecoming and Christmas parades. Activities were headed by Terri Nash, president; Donna Moore, vice-president; and Chuck Richardson, secretary and treasurer. Sponsors were Mr. Tom Rohrer, Mrs. Pat Jones, Mrs. Bobbie Bowman, Mrs. Debbie Hart and Mrs. Rose Ann Goddard.

A few minor difficulties held up the production of the Junior class play, but, "Off the Track" was presented February 7-8.

As the year closes the Juniors wait with great anticipation till next year when they are seniors.

Chris Morris shows how spirit-enhanced he is as he leaps over a hurdle at a track meet.

Class of 1982

The 1982 Sophomore class showed much enthusiasm and spirit this year. Activities were guided by class officers Beth Ann Blankenship, President; Marie Hamilton, Vice-President; Mike Slade, Treasurer; and Eddie Hall, Secretary. Sophomore class sponsors were Mr. Barnett, Mrs. Farmer, Mr. Gillenwater, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mr. Phelps, and Mrs. Simpson.

The class colors were royal blue and white, while the class flower was white carnation tipped in blue. "The man who moved mountains began by first moving small stones," was the class motto.

The sophomores showed great spirit at sports events and at club and other activities.

Debonaires Work for Beach and Formal

Throughout the year the Debonaires participated in various activities to raise money for the beach and Christmas Formal. Selling doughnuts, candybars, suckers, and Tupperware were some of these activities.

Supervising the activities were officers Kelly Surber (president), Melody Stevenson (vice-president), Sally Saunders (secretary), Ruth Ann Ray (treasurer), and sponsors Barbara Nash, Ginny Beaver, Vilma Scott, and Rita Surber.

OFFICERS — Cathy Smith, Sally Saunders, Kelly Surber, Ruth Ann Ray, and Mary Beth Rusyniak.

Sub-Debs Participated in Various Activities

OFFICERS — Julie Workman, Cynthia Hare, Cathy Baker and Donna Ford.

MISS SUB-DEB — Cathy Baker, crowned by Jane Miller, was escorted by Mike Crockett.

SOPHOMORES — BACK: Lori Berri, Jan Lester, and Pat Crockett. FRONT: Lynn Lawson, Kelly Baker, Susan Danko and Donna Backus.

To finance the trip to Myrtle Beach, the Christmas formal, and the sponsoring of the Children's Temple Mission, the Sub-Debs worked many long and exhausting hours in a variety of fund-raising projects. Selling calendars, doughnuts, key chains, and Rubbermaid were some of these projects.

The Sub-Debs were led by Cathy Baker, president, Cynthia Hare, vice-president, Donna Ford, treasurer, Julie Workman, secretary, and sponsors Cherri Arkell, Kay Eakes, and Brenda Phillips.

A Time for Thanking

This was a good year at Graham. We have done many things to be proud of, like the win over Beaver in football, the emotion-packed game against Tazewell in the District basketball tournament, the Junior class play, and others that left us with a feeling of accomplishment. We on The Graham staff have tried to capture the moments of happiness and victory in this annual.

We would like to thank the teachers for allowing us to interrupt their classes to take pictures. We want to thank Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Belcher in particular for letting the two of us out of class to do all the little jobs that needed to be done. We thank Coach Carlock for letting us into the football games to take pictures; Mr. Jones for letting us go with the band; Coach Austin and Coach Phelps for letting us go to the away basketball games; Mrs. Welcker for taking pictures we could not take. We thank Mr. Brewster, Mr. Meadows, Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Brown for helping with all the problems and answering all the questions.

We wish to thank the other members of the staff. We had a great time putting the annual together. But most of all, we want to thank Mrs. Emillie Jones. She is the person behind all the other staff members, for Mrs. Jones put in hard work and had much patience with us.

We wish everyone the best of everything next year, whether at college, at work, or at Graham High.

A Time for:
Memories

The villains of Graham High School, David Francis and Richard Foil.

A time for memories. A time to sit back and recall all the good things about this year. The classes, the sports, the activities, the people, the clubs and the community. Memories of this year will stay with you through life, so will your friends that you made here. Cherish your memories for what is past is past, no one can recreate them.

Tommy Tabor was caught sleeping after school.

Ginny Tickle on the job.

Memories

As we look back on this year, we will have fond memories. We can review what this year was: a time for being involved both in the community and in the school.

Mark Graham, Billy Thurston, Mark Fowler and Kelly Graham are proud let-

Kyle Wimmer looks at some of Mrs. Lucas's career pamphlets.

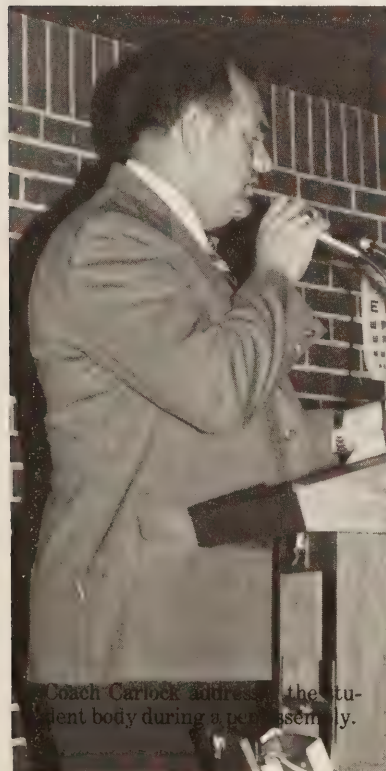

Chris Morris, Joel Lewis, Anna Moore, and Lisa Owens rehearse the courtroom scene.

Melody Stevenson and Lisa Scott give "V for Victory."

Tammy Faw goes up for two.

School Life

Being involved not only in the classroom, but also in sports, plays, clubs, part-time-jobs, and a host of other activities, everyone enjoyed school life.

Coach Williams, Phelps and Don Sharrock seriously watch the first game of the District tournaments when we played the Bulldogs.

Mark Perkins and Kevin H. wait for Basic Composition to start.

Be Involved

It's being involved that creates memories. Those that are involved have a lot to talk about when they share their memories with others.

Rosellis Johnson and Tracy Bowen give a smile.

Cynthia Hare gives a smile, too.

Cynthia Williams finds big interest in her bank.

Steve Hagerman, Leslie Y

k with Mr. Kinser.

Sally Saunders was our band majorette.

Make Things Happen

The great leaders of this nation were not the ones who were just caught up in the whirlpool of events. No, the leaders are the ones making the whirlpool; making things happen. So make things happen.

Mary K. Pope works on her clown face.

Manuel and Miguel Depian stop at their locker between classes.

Keith Spurgul, Joey Masel, Joyce Fields, Mr. Carty and Ricky Casey look over the flower show selection.

A Time to End

The 1980 year ended amid the prom, senior week, and commencement. Whatever you had time for at GHS was now gone, but your whole life will always be affected by the years spent here. Best wishes for a time well spent.

TOP — Steve Peters, Kevin Houch, and Mark Kensinger check their equipment for the Rescue Squad.

MIDDLE — Jon Erling, the mad Russian, spoke at an assembly program in February.

BOTTOM — These seniors, who gave four years of their life to GHS, gathered for a final picture.
